

Case Study #1

One of the global leaders in food products distribution throughout North America, approached Sunbelt Logistics to transport produce from the key growing regions in the United States to the Ontario marketplace, as Sunbelt Logistics is one of the market leaders in the movement of produce with experience spanning over 30 years.

In depth consultation with the customer was undertaken to ensure that detailed and precise processes are followed for this service in order to provide the highest level of service while keeping costs within budgetary parameters.

Dedicated Account Managers were assigned to not only orchestrate the movement of this product, but also to interface with the individuals and companies involved in growing and packaging the product, as well as the end customer.

Sunbelt Logistics implemented Dedicated Team Reefer service from the key growing areas of the U.S. to the Central Canada operating centers for the client with incredible success.

At the forefront of this service, was the desire to establish and grow a beneficial relationship which continues to develop to this day, with Sunbelt Logistics now described as a “valuable and trusted service partner”.
